1. Chair’s Remarks

The Chair welcomed members to the meeting.
2. UTM Proposed Operating Budget, Themes and Priorities: Professor Ulli Krull, Acting Vice-President & Principal and Professor Amy Mullin, Vice-Principal Academic and Dean

The Chair informed members that the presentation would discuss the themes and priorities for the 2016-17 Budget and that the discussion at this Committee level would support UTM’s annual budget preparations and the integration of campus budget plans into the University’s budget. The Chair then invited Professor Ulli Krull, Acting Vice-President & Principal and Professor Amy Mullin, Vice-Principal Academic and Dean to present the item. The presentation included the following key points1:

- The following four funds were segregated: Operating, Capital, Restricted and Ancillary Operations. There had been minimal movement from the Ancillaries to Operating Funds, (historically only Conference Services), however Operating funds were not allowed to contribute to Ancillary Operations;
- The 2015-16 total revenue budget for UTM was $245.0 million;
- After allocations towards the University Fund (UF), University-wide costs, and Student Aid, net revenue for UTM was $184.3 million;
- The net contribution to the University Fund for 2015-16 was 17.2 million. Professor Krull explained that UF allocations went into the base budget for each division;
- UTM’s Budget priorities for 2016-17 included: some enrolment growth, reducing the student to faculty ratio, space expansion, faculty and staff searches, enhancing the student experience and experiential learning initiatives;
- UTM’s student to faculty ratio in 2014-15 was 35.1 to 1, whereas the long-term target had been 30 to 1. This would be facilitated through additional faculty hires and Professor Mullin noted the one time allocation towards faculty hires in 2014-15 by the Provost, in the amount of $600,000;
- Faculty searches were a significant undertaking and UTM typically hired at the Assistant Professor level, which required more time and resources such as space and start-up funds;
- To enhance student experience, funds were allocated towards enhanced student skill development support, more opportunities for resource intensive forms of learning, and greater funding for pedagogical research;
- There would be a continued priority of strengthening research through lab and infrastructure investments, as well as additions to the UTM Research Excellence Fund;
- Members were advised that UTM senior administration would be presenting its budget to the Provost on December 10, 2015.

A member asked how the change in federal government would impact UTM, specifically for research funding. Professor Krull informed members that a new Liberal government could be favorable to UTM as they have indicated clearly an interest in increasing federal funding towards post-secondary education. Particularly with the government’s new innovation agenda, UTM would be well placed to leverage its resources as a campus towards any funding opportunities that may arise.

Members discussed the process by which the budget was approved and how the competing priorities of each division were handled at a central level. Professor Mullin informed members the decision was made by the Provost based on guiding principles such as research and teaching excellence, and after all divisions had presented their budgets.

3. Information Technology at UTM: Ms Susan Senese, Director, Information & Instructional Technology Services (I&ITS)

The Chair invited Ms Susan Senese, Director, Information & Instructional Technology Services to present on Information Technology at UTM. Ms Senese informed members that the priorities of her office were to advance IT infrastructure, support research and teaching, enhance the student experience and customer service and focus on security and risk management. She presented an overview on the wide range of services provided by the Information and Instructional Technology Services (IITS) department. Key accomplishments that were noted included the doubling of wireless capacity since 2013, with 1150 wireless access points across campus, which provided service to 9000 simultaneous connections. Active learning classrooms were exploring technology such as learning platforms, and an Academic Technology Committee had been created to support teaching functions. Recent additions to the IITS department were a new IT Service Desk, which would be situated on level 1 of the CCT building, and incorporating T-Card and Shuttle bus services for a streamlined experience for students. A Student Advisory Committee was created to provide input to the department on enhancing student experiences, while increased support is provided for Bring Your Own Device (BYOD). Ms Senese noted that there had been an increased focus on implementing best practices for IT services and that there would be an implementation of a new support ticket system to provide a seamless, integrated approach to support requests. Ms Senese advised members that information security and risk management were a key priority, and that UTM was working with central divisions on this matter. A policy information security and the protection of digital assets was currently under development and the UTM Information Risk Management program was currently in development.

In response to a member’s question, Ms Senese advised that Financial Information System (FIS) as well as ROSI and ACORN were centrally managed and were tethered to the downtown campus, however there were fail safes provided for back up at UTM as well. In response to another question, Ms Senese advised that IITS was working closely with Campus Police Services on installation of security cameras.

In response to a question regarding the current IT infrastructure, Ms Senese noted that currently cost estimates were being gathered for Microsoft 365, however there were concerns regarding information security and the process would resume after a policy on information security and the protection of digital assets was developed and finalized.

Responding to a comment regarding institutional data, Ms Senese clarified that 50 terabytes did not include research data as that was housed separately by individual research teams. In response to a member’s concern regarding the potential loss of research data that was not on UTM servers, Ms Senese advised that IITS was collaborating with researchers to provide more robust solutions.

4. An Update on Food Services: Ms Vicky Jezierski, Director, Hospitality & Retail Operations

The Chair noted that this presentation would provide members with information on the issues and opportunities facing the Food Services ancillaries and to prepare for the consideration of the Ancillary Operating Plans at the next meeting of the Campus Affairs Committee. The Chair invited Ms Vicky Jezierski, Director, Hospitality & Retail Operations to present an update on campus food services. Ms Jezierski provided members with an overview of the progress in food services within the last 5 years, updates in the new food contract as well as challenges and new initiatives. Some highlights of the contract included that the Chartwells contract was to be made available to the public, had a shorter term at 5 years, there was a 0% price increase for 2016-17, and a 30 percent catering discount for student groups. There were several new initiatives as part of the new contract such as the monthly community kitchens and food trucks which had been received well by the UTM community. Ms Jezierski noted that progress in food services over the last 5 years had been significant with managed volume increasing from $6.5 million in 2010 to $11 million in 2015, all original food services locations had been reconstructed or renovated, new locations were added and the hospitality department increased community sponsorship from $6000 per year to $30,000 per year. Ms Jezierski noted that some of the challenges for food services have been constraints on space and consistent provision of optimal variety of food at varying price points, however with the new North Phase B building there would be new food service locations offered. In addition, there had been a significant amount of engagement with the UTM community in order to continually gather feedback on the variety and quality of food services.

A member commented that the food on campus had improved significantly, and asked about the maintenance of food quality while remaining price-sensitive. Ms Jezierski advised that there were lesser complaints about prices as an increasing number of price points had been made available. In response to a member’s question, Ms Jezierski noted that the different monthly Community Kitchen topics and noted that the number of events held could be increased further, if more suitable cooking spaces could be allocated to it.

5. Assessor’s Report

Mr. Mark Overton reported on upcoming items in the New Year when the Committee would consider ancillary fees. Mr. Overton advised members at its February meeting, assessors would bring forward the annual item of compulsory non-academic incidental fees for consideration. He advised that the Quality Service to Students (QSS) Committee, which provided advice to the administration’s proposals had not met this academic year. The University of Toronto Mississauga Students Union (UTMSU), a student government required for QSS quorum, had so far refused to participate until specific concessions were made, which had not been supported by UofT’s or UTM’s administration. Mr. Overton advised members that the departments which provided the relevant services were undertaking advisory group consultations in lieu of QSS consultations, including seeking input from student government representatives, surveys, and consultation sessions held at UTM. He informed members that a formal QSS vote on advice may not occur, and in that event proposals for allowable cost of living fee increases would be brought directly to the CAC and the Campus Council for consideration. Mr. Overton stated that his office still hoped to engage with representative student governments on this matter and was working towards that goal. A member asked if there were ways in which alumni mentors could become involved to assist in such matters, or provide input. Another member echoed these concerns, adding that if the process did not suit the needs of each party involved, that there be a revision to the QSS process. Mr. Overton noted that these events were not dissimilar to those at UofT or at UTSC, and that the challenge was that all parties would need to collaborate on a solution. Professor Mullin clarified for members that although student government had not participated in consultations, students at large had done so.

Mr. Overton provided an update on police services to inform members that the new role of Building Patrollers had been added. Mr. Rob Messacar, Manager, Campus Police Services highlighted the WalkSafer and WorkAlone programs, which were available to all members of the UTM community.

Campus services proposals for consideration

Major elements
• UTM Health Services Fee
• UTM Athletics and Recreation Fee
• UTM Student Services Fee (funding a range of programs & activities, including shuttle services, the career centre, international ed, child & family care, student life initiatives including the co-curricular record...)

Minor element
• Fee adjustments for students whose periods of enrolment don’t match UT’s traditional registration and billing periods (for research-stream graduate students, some professional masters program students, and medical students at UTM)

Overview of Process
QSS advice

- Quality Service to Students Committee (QSS)
  - 17 voting members (11 voters from student governments; 6 voters from administration) plus many non-voting student and administrative participants
- QSS is not a part of governance, although it is governed by policy and protocol on non-tuition fees
- Protocol assigns to UTM QSS the responsibility to advise on proposals related to specific fees, which are conveyed to governance

QSS process

Consultation

- Advisory groups open to all students (including QSS participants) discuss services’ operations and options (Oct. & Nov.)
- Services’ directors/managers, incorporating their advisory groups’ feedback, present budget & fee proposals to QSS and seek endorsement (Nov. & Dec.)

Voting on advice

- QSS endorsement of proposed budgets is sought and may pass or fail (Jan.)
- Lack of endorsement does not restrict services from seeking cost of living increases under specific conditions (per a formal agreement between UT and its overarching student governments)
- Advice is relayed through a specific process and timeline into governance
• In 2015-16, UTMSU (a student government required for QSS quorum) has so far refused to participate until specific concessions are made, which have not been supported by UT’s or UTM’s administration.
• Services are undertaking advisory group consultations despite QSS not having launched them, including seeking input from student government representatives, and developed proposals.
• A formal QSS vote on advice may not occur; if that’s the case, proposals for allowable fee increases will be brought directly to CAC and CC.
