The presentation\(^2\) included the following highlights:

- The 2016-17 balanced budget at the institutional level was $2.318B, which was an increase of $158M from the 2015-16 budget. The sources of funding for the new $158M was generated mainly from increases in tuition fees ($74M) and new enrolment ($65M);
- There were plans for 11 percent undergraduate enrolment growth at UTSC over the next 5 years. International students made up 16 percent of total undergraduate enrolment, and the ratio was expected to remain the same over the planning period;

\(^{1}\) Presentation- Orientation of Members

\(^{2}\) Presentation- Current-year Campus and Institutional Operating Budget, UTSC
The provincial operating grant, as a source of revenue, continued to decline, representing 28 percent of total revenue in 2016-17;

- At UTSC, there were preliminary plans to hire an additional 49 faculty and librarians and 36 administrative staff by 2020-21;

- University-wide costs (UWC) include shared service portfolio operations, non-discretionary expenses such as utilities and municipal taxes, academic initiative funds such as the Undergraduate Course Development Fund, and pension special payments. UTSC paid into some shared services, but operated others, such as facilities and student services, separately;

- The University spent $58M on need-based student aid in 2014-15. Of the $58M, $20M was required under the Student Access Guarantee policy and an additional $35M was discretionary spending;

- In 2016-17 UTSC received $3.3M in University Fund (UF) allocations for: capital matching, a Dean’s Fund, and three positions to address student academic progress. In addition, all divisions were eligible to apply to pooled funds for diversity hiring, faculty start-up, interdivisional teaching, data science, and graduate program innovation. Since 2007-08, UTSC had received 16 percent of the total UF.

A member asked what was considered ‘other costs’ in the list of 2016-17 new expenses, and Mr. Rodgers reported that ‘other costs’ included library acquisitions, the Boundless campaign, and other non-salary commitments.

In response to questions regarding campus utility costs, Mr. Arifuzzaman explained that the solar panels on the Instructional Centre (IC) were not included in utility costs.

4. Update on the University’s Sexual Violence Action Plan

The Chair invited Professor Regehr to present the update on the University’s Sexual Violence action plan to the Committee. The presentation included the following highlights:

- In November 2014 the University created the Presidential and Provostial Advisory Committee on Preventing and Responding to Sexual Violence. The Committee met over an 18 month period to produce a final report, which was presented to the President and Vice-President and Provost in February 2016. In April 2016 the President and Vice-President and Provost accepted the recommendations from the report including the creation of a proposed policy on sexual violence;

- Bill 132 (Sexual Violence and Harassment Action Plan) was passed in March 2016 requiring all publicly funded Ontario colleges and universities to have a sexual violence policy that addressed sexual violence involving students and sets out the process for how the university would respond to and address incidents and complaints of sexual violence, and to provide awareness training on the sexual violence policy to faculty, staff, students, and other members of the University community;

3 Presentation- Update on the University’s Sexual Violence Action Plan
Building upon the work of the Presidential and Provostial Advisory Committee on Preventing and Responding to Sexual Violence and the requirements under Bill 132, the University developed a sexual violence action plan, which included four pillars: a new sexual violence policy, a climate survey, an education and prevention training component, and the creation of a new tri-campus Sexual Violence Centre & the hiring of a new Executive Director. For support and implementation of the pillars, three expert panels were established (i.e. the Climate Survey Advisory Board; the Expert Panel on Education and Prevention of Sexual Violence; and the Expert Panel on Sexual Violence Policies).

The legislation required the Policy to be in place by January 1, 2017, and as a result the draft Policy on Sexual Violence was being presented for information in Cycle 1 governance meetings and for approval in Cycle 2. The draft Policy was released to students, staff and faculty for consultation on September 5th. The consultation period was expected to run until mid-October 2016;

Professor Regehr discussed some of the highlights of the draft Policy, which included the following:
- The definition of sexual violence included sexual harassment;
- The Policy would apply to faculty, staff, and students;
- The Policy would apply to incidents on-campus, off-campus, and online;
- The Policy presented complainants with clear options on how to proceed following an event of sexual violence;
- The Policy eliminated mandatory mediation; and
- The Policy safeguarded procedural fairness for the respondent.

A member asked whether sexual violence incidents off-campus would still be reported through the criminal justice system. Professor Regehr explained that the Criminal Code would still apply, but that the complainant could report an incident through the University’s system whether or not they chose to pursue a criminal claim.

Professor Bruce Kidd, Vice-President and Principal, UTSC, congratulated Professor Regehr and her colleagues for the development of the draft Policy on Sexual Violence and action plan at the University. He commented that UTSC was committed to upholding the approved Policy and planned to create a safe space on campus as part of the Sexual Violence Prevention & Support Centre. Professor Kidd encouraged Committee members to provide online feedback on the draft Policy.

5. Assessors’ Reports

Mr. Desmond Pouyat, Dean of Student Affairs, reported that UTSC had experienced another successful Fall Orientation session for students, and invited Ms Liza Arnason, Director, Student Life and International Student Centre, to provide highlights on the events and activities that took place.

Ms Arnason reported that the strategic focus of Orientation was on integration and collaboration across UTSC to ensure students were academically and socially prepared and... supported through the first six weeks of the semester. Ms Arnason reported that UTSC also participated in the tri-campus ASKme program (i.e. program to create a welcoming environment for new students) and the Sexual Violence Committee conducted training sessions on consent with various student leaders on campus. In addition, the Department of Student Life made over 3000 telephone calls to first year and new students to welcome them to UTSC.
